

Steven Fekete Jr. for Congress

The first question is why run?

It is because I had a spark in me to make a move when I heard that Rep. Mark Meadows was retiring from my district. He has done a great job from all that I have seen. He has not been in any trouble at any time and pays attention to his constituents by following the same core values as the people of Western Carolina. These people are the salt of the earth and know about sacrifice, commitment, and compassion to their fellow man. The people of North Carolina are full of common sense. For one example, we, along with the help of Pat McCrory tried to end the confusion of multiple genders, when there are obviously only two. We need guardrails in society to keep from confusing our youth on where we are going as a society.

You can have your dreams and fantasies because anything is possible in the United States of America. My dream is that a sinner like me can atone for my sins before I die and become the best person possible to help this generation from being lost or misled. The bombardment by social reading, electronic sharing, and safe feelings can be the downfall of core values. There are not enough bright messages of hope and self-discipline. Much more can be achieved when there is a society that protects everyone and does not allow special allowances to groups who want to live in a bubbled world in which reality cannot touch them.

You have the right to fail, but also the responsibility to work hard and get along with your fellow human beings. We are at a crossroads this day to become a mature group of citizens or revert back to a feral past where only the fit survive. The tensions are high, and those blinded by failure might want to take back what they lost by force. Leadership with no compassion is a successful way to lead people toward a dark road. Mob rule has no place in a republic in which the people have spoken.

By being in the Congress I can help continue the direction of God-fearing men and women and help guide the moral "ship" towards liberty for all. You have the freedom to not agree, and yet you cannot be given the tools to dismantle our Republic. It is with sweat and tears and dying that we have accomplished so much in so little time as a country.

Our heritage is only about 240 years old and the goodness of God has gotten us here. Satan did not help in achieving so much. It is with our blood, and the blood of those who have died for this country, that makes it safe for everyone to live here.

You and I know that compared to all the Empires, communists, and dictators in the world, we Americans allow people to leave and find other places to their liking. It is funny that the wealthy leave their money offshore so as not to pay taxes. Many of the rich that do not leave hate this Republic. If things are so much better all over the world, then why do people try to break in and sponge off our kindness? There are some questions I cannot answer. All I know is that the goodness of opportunity shines on everyone who lives here.

The second question is why now?

I know that President Trump has our back when it comes to making America Great Again. The spirit of Americans has been lifted. It has been shown to the people that the Deep State is holding our country back from self-rule. The lying and cheating that goes on is being purged from the establishment. Seeing what good men and women do instead of hearing what Evil promises is the gauge I look at when it comes to seeing results. Keeping the public ignorant of the things that are succeeding is as bad as lying about achievements of good people. The Deep State, with the help of "Liberal media complex", do misinform the public about the goals of Dems to grab back power and go back to the old way of whining of how bad the world is, and we only have 10 years or less to live if we do not give up all our money to self-proclaimed experts and live like a 5th world country.

It has been shown very quickly by President Trump that oil, gas, and coal are the necessary vehicles that will carry us into the future to live; and while finding ways to live, we set our eyes on being kind to the earth. All we can do is take care of what is within our borders until we can share the advancements of better living. If we discovered it, we will be the first to use it for our common good. This also goes for intellectual properties.

We have been robbed by politicians for the last 30 or 40 years. That is why we must get out of this 20 trillion dollar debt. We need to stop paying for everything and cut unnecessary spending so we may balance our books and continue to grow our economy. If we continue to go backwards, we will bankrupt our economy like our treasury is. We have to save more than we spend; how simple is that? The country cannot keep handing out money for poor reasons. Now is the time for the world to put on its big boy pants and manage their own finances. If we do not handle our finances and morals now, then the question is when?

The third question is why me?

I feel so lucky that I was born in the United States of America. My siblings and I are first generation immigrants who were saved from tyranny. Communist Russia took over Hungary after World War II and promised that things were going to get better. Better food, housing, jobs, and lifestyle. All they did was drain all the resources, products and energy from the country. In 1956 the people revolted from the tyranny that was being put on them and started taking back their independence with small arms fire. Russia did not want to negotiate; they rolled in tanks and put down the rebellion. My parents had to leave or be killed for being part of the resistance.

They got out of Hungary and came to America to be free again, like they used to be. We children were told of the horrors that happened to those who remained and how brutal the government was. As I have grown up, my parents and I have seen how Socialism and Communism are being sold to the uninformed. You will never see when they change into brutal leaders, until it is too late. Evil never sleeps; and Evil flourishes when good men do nothing.
